9 COMPENSATION FOR DELAYS

Arlanda Express' travel time guarantee

- 9.1 Under the travel time guarantee, a Passenger will be issued with a new ticket if an Arlanda Express train, for whatever reason, arrives at Stockholm Arlanda Airport or Stockholm Central Station within such a time that the Passenger experiences a Delay of more than five minutes.

Compensation for service delays

- 9.2 A Passenger may claim compensation according to any of the points 9.3-9.7 below. However, if a new ticket has been issued according to point 9.1, the Passenger is not entitled to simultaneously claim compensation according to any of the following points 9.3-9.7. To be eligible for compensation according to points 9.3-9.7, a Passenger must plan their Trip in such a manner that the Passenger arrives at their Final Destination in good time to reach any connecting trips. In addition to the following, the special travel terms and conditions for Resplus trips also apply to a Passenger travelling on a ResPlus ticket (see point 1.5 for a link to the terms and conditions).

Compensation according to points 9.3-9.6 complies with the provisions of the Swedish Act on the Rights of Public Transport Passengers (2015:953). A-Train AB thereby (except for certain special regulations related to trips with ResPlus tickets) fulfils its statutory obligations to provide compensation. For the most part, the Compensation for Delays that is offered under point 9.7 is therefore beyond what A-Train AB is legally obligated to offer a Delayed Passenger.

Actual delays exceeding 20 minutes

- 9.3 If a Passenger's arrival at their Final Destination is delayed by more than twenty (20) minutes, the Passenger, provided they do not claim compensation for other transport on the grounds of an anticipated Delay under point 9.4, or have not claimed compensation under point 9.1, is entitled to a discount and repayment as follows:
- a) 50 per cent of the fare that the Passenger has paid for the Trip, if the Delay amounts to more than 20 minutes,
 - b) 75 per cent of the fare that the Passenger has paid for the Trip, if the Delay amounts to more than 40 minutes,
 - c) the full amount of the fare that the Passenger has paid for the Trip, if the Delay amounts to more than 60 minutes.

Anticipated delays of 20 minutes or more

- 9.4 If there is reasonable cause to assume that a Trip will be delayed by more than twenty (20) minutes, the Passenger is entitled to compensation by Arlanda Express for reasonable costs for other transport to reach their Final Destination (either Stockholm Arlanda Airport or Stockholm Central Station.) This also applies in the absence of an agreement on transport for the Journey that is anticipated to be delayed, if the passenger has specifically arranged to travel with Arlanda Express (is waiting on the platform prior to departure).
- 9.5 If the passenger has not paid for the Journey, Arlanda Express may deduct the cost that would have been incurred by the passenger if they had paid for the Trip. The starting point is that the cost that would have been incurred by the passenger is the current fare for a single adult ticket. If the passenger, when claiming compensation from A-Train AB, can show they are under the age of 26 or over the age of 65, the current fare for a single youth or pensioner ticket will be deducted.

The maximum amount of compensation for an anticipated Delay under point 9.4 is 1/40 of the price-base amount in accordance with Chapter 2, Section 7 of the Social Insurance Code applicable to the year in which the Trip should have been completed.

- 9.6 Compensation for other transport in the event of an anticipated Delay is paid for the means of transport that would have been a satisfactory alternative for the Passenger (such as taxi or shuttle bus).

In order to receive compensation under this point 9.6, the Passenger must submit receipts in original to Arlanda Express.

A Delay that leads to the Passenger being stuck on the train for 50 minutes or longer

- 9.7 If the train trip, from when the train has left the platform, takes more than 50 minutes to reach Stockholm Arlanda Airport or Stockholm Central Station, a Passenger on board such a delayed train, is entitled to:
- a) the fare, or some of the fare, that the Passenger has paid for the Trip under point 9.3, compensation for the actual, reasonable additional costs incurred by rebooking

a ticket for connecting transport (for a connecting trip with the same type of transport to the intended final destination) from Stockholm Arlanda Airport or Stockholm Central Station, or the cost of a new ticket for the same connecting transport (please note that special terms and conditions apply for a trip with a ResPlus ticket), and

b) compensation for actual, reasonable additional costs in the form of meals and non-alcoholic beverages, in reasonable proportion to the waiting time at Stockholm Arlanda Airport/ Stockholm Central Station, accommodation in a hotel or hostel when stays of one or more nights are necessary.

In order to receive compensation under this point 9.7, the Passenger must submit tickets and receipts in original to Arlanda Express.

The maximum amount of compensation under this point 9.7 is 3/10 of the price-base amount in accordance with Chapter 2, Section 7 of the Social Insurance Code applicable to the year in which the Journey should have been completed. When paying compensation for meals and beverages, A-Train uses the Swedish Tax Agency's provisions for expenses to determine what constitutes actual, reasonable additional costs, but also accounts for the cost situation at the specific location, such as Stockholm Arlanda Airport.

10 GENERAL RESPONSIBILITIES

Arlanda Express' responsibilities

- 10.1 Arlanda Express is to be responsible for damages arising from the death or infliction of bodily harm or other physical or psychological damage in connection with the rail service, and which occurs while the Passenger is on board, or boarding or alighting the train. Arlanda Express is not responsible for damage that occurs after the Passenger has alighted from the train (such as damage that occurs in connection with the use of escalators, elevators or any other contexts unrelated to the rail service).
- 10.2 In accordance with item 10.1, Arlanda Express is discharged from liability:
- a) if the accident was caused by circumstances that cannot be attributed to the actual rail service, or which Arlanda Express could not avoid or prevent the consequences of, even if Arlanda Express had exercised the due diligence required by the circumstances,
 - b) to the extent that the accident was due to the fault or neglect on the part of the Passenger,
 - c) if the accident was due to the behaviour of third parties that Arlanda Express could not have avoided or prevented the consequences of, even if Arlanda Express had exercised the due diligence required by the circumstances. A different company that utilises the same infrastructure shall not be regarded as a third party. The right of recourse from third parties shall not be impacted.
- 10.3 For property carried by the traveller or luggage accompanying the traveller on board the train that is lost or damaged and that has no relation to personal injury, Arlanda Express will only be responsible if the fault or neglect is attributable to Arlanda

Express. The responsibility hereof is limited to half of a price-base amount, unless Arlanda Express wilfully caused the damage or acted in a grossly negligent manner. However, full-value compensation will be paid for lost or damaged aids specifically customised for disabilities.

- 10.4 Arlanda Express is not responsible for any damage to the traveller due to the traveller's neglect of the train's departure time, due to the traveller boarding the wrong train or carriage or due to the traveller's failure to alight from the train at his/her designated station.
- 10.5 Arlanda Express' responsibilities for damage arising from Arlanda Express' failure to perform its transportation obligations are regulated in chapter 1 section 3 of the Railway Act.
- 10.6 The traveller is entitled to compensation for specific costs arising from the interruption of rail services in accordance with item 9.2 above. Customer claims for compensation must be substantiated by the presentation of receipts or supporting vouchers. Arlanda Express will not indemnify travellers for business losses or other indirect damage or consequential losses.
- 10.7 Disbursements of claims for delays in accordance with item 9.2 are to be made by payment to credit or charge cards. For tickets purchased via Arlanda Express' website or app, the refund will be made to the credit or charge card used for the payment of the trip.

The traveller's responsibilities

- 10.8 In accordance with general indemnification regulations, the traveller is responsible for damages and costs occasioned to Arlanda Express and other travellers or their property, whether by intent or negligence. In accordance with general indemnification regulations, the traveller is also responsible for material damage and personal injury caused by his/her luggage to other individuals or their luggage, or to Arlanda Express' property. This is also applicable if luggage is placed in such a manner that the traveller is unable to keep it under supervision.

Withdrawal from agreement on Season Ticket purchase

- 10.9 The Passenger may withdraw from the agreement concerning the purchase of a Season Ticket if, following the purchase, Arlanda Express' traffic offering is changed in a manner that deviates from what the Passenger had good reason to assume at the time of purchase and the deviation is of material importance to the Passenger. If a Passenger withdraws from the agreement on the purchase of a Season Ticket, the Passenger is entitled to a refund of the portion of the ticket price pertaining to the period after the said withdrawal.

11 COMPLAINTS AND DISPUTE SETTLEMENT

Complaints

- 11.1 The Passenger may claim compensation in accordance with item 9.2 only if the Passenger notifies Arlanda Express about his/her intention to invoke a Delay (claim) within a reasonable time after the completion of the journey or the time when the journey would have been completed had transportation been provided. A message submitted within three (3) months after the completion of the journey, or the time that it should have been completed, is always to be considered as a timely submission. If a complaint notification has been sent in an appropriate manner, the complaint is to be regarded as having occurred at the time of its submission.
- 11.2 As a starting point, complaints are otherwise to be submitted in writing to Arlanda Express within a reasonable time, but no later than three (3) months after completion of the Trip.

Settlement of disputes

- 11.3 Should the parties be unable to resolve the disputes concerning the interpretation or application of the Travel Terms and Conditions, the dispute may be reviewed by the National Board for Consumer Complaints or by a common court.
- 11.4 When compensating reasonable costs for other transport to reach the Final Destination, A-Train compensates trips with own car (for the route between Stockholm Central Station and Stockholm Arlanda Airport) according to the Swedish Tax Agency's standard for business travel with own car unless the Passenger can prove that higher costs than those in the standard were also necessary.
- 11.5 Compensation is paid to a credit or debit card, or via a bank transfer. For tickets purchased via Arlanda Express' website or app, the refund is preferably made to the credit or debit card used to pay for the Trip.

12 PERSONAL DATA

- 12.1 Arlanda Express collects personal data such as names, postal addresses, e-mail addresses, telephone numbers, bank information or similar that the Passenger voluntarily submits, for example, through the Passenger's online purchase of tickets and passes, through repurchases, the issue of surcharges or when utilising the travel guarantee. To the extent that personal data is collected by Arlanda Express, Arlanda Express is to be regarded as a keeper of personal data in accordance with the Personal Data Protection Act (1998:204).

Arlanda Express is required to handle personal data in order to fulfil and administer undertakings to the Passengers in accordance with these Travel Terms and Conditions.

By submitting his/her personal data for registration, the Passenger consents to Arlanda Express' handling of the data for the purposes stated in these Travel Terms and Conditions.

Once per calendar year, a Passenger is entitled, free of charge and following a request in writing, to obtain information about the Passenger's specific personal data handled by Arlanda Express.

A Passenger may also request that Arlanda Express update personal data or ask questions about Arlanda Express' handling of personal data. Passengers may also deny the use of personal data for the purposes of direct marketing. Such requests may be submitted to Arlanda Express's customer service unit.
